❖ Students Comments of CBMCB

It's been almost 4 years here in Community Based Medical College Bangladesh, but everyday there seems to be something new, new interns of learning something, knowing something, understanding something.

Hope I find this newness for the rest of my stay here cause to know, to learn and to understand something new was the reason for which I wanted to be a part of this great institution.

-APURBA CHARYA, CB-15

- When I put my first step in CBMCB, I thought my life is doomed far away from home, new faces, different environment and language that I never heard before. But today I feel proud to be a CB student as all things changed, happened suddenly after getting the environment that I never dreamed, that keep me happy here. It was hard to adjust but flow of time made me adapt. Now I'm almost ending my college life. Every beginning has the end and every ending has new beginning likewise happened in short course of my stay at CBMCB. I am sure that whoever comes here will find his/her life in hard path but will enjoy the golden future at the end that will keep him/her happy forever. The people around here make your journey easy and you can never delete from your memories. So welcome to heaven through obstacles.

➤ If I have to say in one sentence the single most important thing about CBMCB is, I have to never bend my head, always hold it high and look forward right in the eye and can say proudly that I am from CBMCB. Because our college has given all the facilities that a nice medical college should give and education by the most renowned teachers and a nice co-ordination between seniors and juniors. How my 5 year spent, I could not understand. Myself I am quite happy and satisfied from our college.

❖ When I first landed in Bangladesh, I was really nervous but within few days, the excitement to know the people, their language, their culture helped me to get rid of that nervousness. And today, 3 years later, I've known a lot, but still, there're loads of things to be known and what's helping me is the co-operation of the people. I'd specially like to thank CBMCB family for all they've done for us.

✚ With all the efficient doctors, their knowledge, experience and skills, equipped with modern technologies and with art of good teaching process.

CBMCB has been providing the best service to the mankind for more than a decade. It has been producing quality doctors endued with a zeal and devotion to serve humanity. I do feel proud to be a part of this great institution and want to thank almighty for giving such a beautiful opportunity to pursue my dream n this college.

And lastly, want to express my gratitude to all the CBMCB teachers for their constant support and selfless effort in the process of making me a successful doctor and more than that a good human being.

CBMCB, an institution that cares, nourishes and sharpens the student's mind. Full of highly qualified teachers, full of facilities, surrounded by knowledge in every corner, a perfect institution for a student to start a medical career. I am having a great experience being a part of it, hoping the outcome will definitely be a bright future with flying colors.

SAJAL RAI, CB 18, Roll - 111

Choosing medical career in a foreign country was one of the biggest decisions of my life. But I found myself lucky enough to be a part of one of the renowned private medical college of Bangladesh, Community Based Medical College. Four years here in CBMCB, have taught me many things in life. I have got opportunity to learn new things, new language, new culture and quality medical education, of course. I am thankful to all the teachers for providing quality education, college administration for helping in every difficulty and Bengali people for providing such a friendly and lively atmosphere. The moments spent here are what make me feel truly alive.

SANJEEV NAGILA, CB 15

With lots of hopes, emotions and inspirations when I got admitted in CBMCB, life was not pretty good with new language, culture and environment. But now I feel very proud to be a part of this wonderful institution more than that, to be able to gain valuable knowledge and experience from our teachers which will help me to become a very good human being as well as doctor.

Severe thanks to all our teachers, seniors and college staffs.
